LAND END OF CABLE

A meeting of the merchants of the city was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of making arrangements for the celebration of the landing of the cable in the city of Honolulu. There was a very large attendance and after a short time the program as given above was arranged.

The merchants mean to make the reception of the cable an event long to be remembered by the people of the Islands and the committee of which George W. Smith is the chairman is now hard at work on the arrangements. The mass meeting of the people is to be held on the Capitol grounds immediately in front of the King street entrance to the building.

The merchants have heard from the cable people, and in all probability, the celebration will be on Wednesday. It is the plan to lay the shore end of the cable so as to have direct communication with the cable ship from the shore.

After the laying of the shore end of the cable, the Silvertown will proceed to sea, laying her cable up to the place where the end was buoyed yesterday morning. Constant communication will be kept up between the office here and the cable ship. When it has been calculated in town that about a half-hour will elapse between the splicing of the cable and the establishment of direct communication with San Francisco, the whistle of the Hawaiian Electric Company, which blows when foreign steamers are telephoned, will give continuous blasts for the purpose of informing the people that it is time to start for the Executive building.

As soon as the news has been received that the cable has been spliced, the exercises will begin, probably by the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the band. The fact that the cable has been spliced will of course be known by Honolulu being in communication with San Francisco.

The committee in charge of the celebration expect every business house in the city that has a flag to display it in honor of the occasion.

Mr. Gaines of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company was seen this forenoon by a Bulletin reporter and asked what time the cable ship Silvertown would probably go to sea for the purpose of completing the work of connecting Honolulu with San Francisco. In reply, he said:

"You know about as much about it as I do. To tell you the truth, we do not know. Everything depends on the weather. I saw the captain of the cable ship this morning and he said that as long as this weather continued it would be useless for the vessel to proceed to sea. Nothing can be done with the sea and wind as they are at the present time."

"It is certain that nothing can be done today although the Silvertown is taking on coal preparatory to starting just as soon as the weather abates. Yes, she may go out tomorrow."

"It is probable that the celebration will come a day after the laying of the shore end of the cable. In fact, I may state almost positively that this will be the result."

"You see, the reason the captain will wait settled weather is that he may start out to lay the remainder of the cable in good weather and upon getting outside for the purpose of splicing the shore end may meet with winds and seas that will cause him to turn back to port again. We must have good weather for the work. It is not like the open sea, where there is a lot of room to move about in. There, a little change in the weather does not make so much difference."

"Yes; I have heard about the laying of the shore end of the cable by means of a lighter. That is probably what will be done. The steamer will go outside of Waikiki and the lighter will take the cable from her and proceed with it to shore. As soon as the shore connection has been made, the cable ship will proceed to the point where the cable end was buoyed yesterday morning."

At all events, the Silvertown will not start out today and although it may be that she will go out on the work tomorrow, it will certainly not be until Monday before direct communication will be established between this port and San Francisco.

LAND END OF CABLE

Secretary Hawes of the Governor's office called in at the Bulletin office this morning and stated that after a conference with Mr. Dickenson, he had learned that in all probability the work of laying the shore end of the cable would be done tomorrow.

However, this was not certain, as much depended on weather. It might be that the laying of the shore end could not take place until Monday.

Invitations with no date or time have been sent out for various people to witness the connection of the shore end of the cable with the end that now runs out to the cable hut at San Souel and arrangements have been made with the Hawaiian Electric Co. to blow the whistle two hours before the laying of the shore end begins in order to allow all those invited to witness the scene to be present at San Souel in plenty of time.

The committee in charge of the celebration expect every business house in the city that has a flag to display it in honor of the occasion.

The Federated Council of Labor has appointed a committee for the purpose of conferring with a like committee from the Builders and Traders' Exchange in the matter of a census of the business district of the city to ascertain the proportion the Orientals bear to non-Orientals as merchants, clerks, contractors, skilled and unskilled laborers, etc.

The Merchants' Association has been asked by the Builders and Traders' Exchange to appoint a similar committee and this will very probably be done at a meeting of the organization to be held during the first of the week.

A meeting of the committees from the Federated Council and Exchange is scheduled for this afternoon and at that time plans for the prosecution of the work will be decided on. The expenses will be cut down to the lowest figure possible.

The committee from the Federated Council has orders to ascertain what is wanted by the labor organization and to report back, and as the next meeting will not be held until the first of next month, nothing can be done at this time.

The inmates of Kapiolani Home at Kalahehi were remembered very liberally on Christmas day. Besides good considerable public sentiment has been stirred up over the matter of the gifts were sent to the institution, taking of the census by the three organizations were the fol-lowing: Mrs. Walter Hoffmann, dolls, and it is thought that by the cooperation of candy and fruit; Mrs. A. E. Murphy, toys; and Mrs. H. H. Williams.

WATER ON McBRIDE

METZGER SAYS PROSPECTS ARE VERY PROMISING

LAND UNDER CULTIVATION AND NEW WATER DEVELOPED. FAIR PRICE WILL LIVE-EN THINGS.

"If sugar remains at its present price McBryde plantation will be able to pay $150,000 of its indebtedness this year and twice that amount next year," so says D. E. Metzger, who returned from Kalahehi this morning on the Mikahala.

Mr. Metzger is quite enthusiastic over the outlook for McBryde plantation and says that a very few years of good sugar prices will put the plantation on a firm footing as any in the Islands. He further says:

"McBryde will take off over 12,000 tons of sugar this year from 2,000 acres. The new mill is now turning out about seventy-five tons of sugar a day and doing excellent and economical work."

"The plant for next year will exceed 1,200 acres, 800 acres of which is new land now being plowed. Next year's crop will be taken off 2,500 acres and will run at least 14,000 tons."

"The plantation is steadily spreading out over new land and there is now 1,050 acres of growing cane east of Lawai gulch, with 250 acres more being cleared to plant next year. The total acreage under cultivation at present is 4,200 and by the end of next year this will be increased to 5,000 acres. In a few months more the railroad will be extended from one end of the plantation to the other, and be equipped with three first-class Baldwin locomotives and over 800 cane and merchandise cars. The railroad grade is nearly all completed, awaiting the rails, and splendid shipping facilities are being established at both ends of the eight-mile line."

Being asked about the water supply, Mr. Metzger said:

"McBryde is better off for water than any other pumping plantation in the Islands today. It is true that the pumping capacity at Lawai is much greater than the supply of fresh water there, but in Hanapepe valley the plantation has developed more fresh water for every day in the year than the two pumps there can handle; besides, the plantation will soon be independent of its pumps, except in extremely dry weather. There are now twenty-two completed reservoirs on the place with a total storage capacity of 650,000,000 gallons and another large one is building which alone will hold 230,000,000 gallons."

"The reservoirs furnished water for nearly all the planting last year, and with an ordinary rainfall during the summer they will carry the whole plantation through the year; at most, the pump will need be operated only a few months."

"Then there is 5,000,000 gallons, daily, of mountain water, and quite that much more from foothill springs, coming out between the three and four hundred foot levels. Nearly all the reservoirs, in point of capacity, are above the 800-foot level and they have greatly increased the output from all the springs and seepages lower down."

"If sugar remains at a profitable price, it seems to me that a few years' time and a few more reservoirs will make McBryde one of the most substantial sugar properties in the Islands."

A newspaper man of his acquaintance waiting in the outer office advised him that it would be absurd to trouble Mr. Cooper, as he had nothing to do with such matters, and Mr. Evans left without seeing him.

The horse is described as a dark brown pony. Its owner says he kept it in the American House yard for eight years past.

At 1:30, the Kinau was sighted 15 miles off port.

A DARING BURGLARY

A daring but not very remunerative burglary was committed night before last at the corner of Bethel and King streets. The Japanese hat store next to Castle & Cooke's offices was entered from above. The burglar used a ladder which is kept in the small yard mauka of Castle & Cooke's, and got through a skylight into the store, where he secured something over $5 from the till. Castle & Cooke's stock transfer office, which lies mauka of the main office building and separate from it, was also entered, but nothing was taken. Finally the Pacific Hardware Co.'s Bethel street store was entered, but nothing was taken from this place, either.

Mr. Evans lodged information of his loss at police headquarters, where he says he was told that the Public Works department had jurisdiction of strayed horses. He maintained that this was not a case of an stray but of horse-stealing. However, he went up to see Superintendent Cooper about it this forenoon.

SENT TO WRONG SHOP

WILLIAM EVANS HAD HORSE STOLEN CHRISTMAS

William Evans complains that a horse was stolen from his yard on the American House premises, King street, on Christmas morning. The milkman told him he saw the horse there at 4 o'clock.

IN A FAINTING FIT

E. N. Boukowsky, an employee of Lovejoy & Co., was seized with a sudden fainting fit in the place of business on Nuuanu street at about 7:45 this morning, and fell from a box on which he was sitting to the floor. In the fall he injured his nose somewhat and the blood streaming over him made it seem as if he was seriously injured. The patrol wagon was called and Boukowsky was taken to the Queen's Hospital, where his wound was dressed. It was not of a serious nature.

The sight of the man bled in blood being taken up the street in the patrol wagon started several wild and blood-curdling rumors around town.

THEY WANTED COFFEE

At 9 o'clock this morning the crew of the schooner Aloha made a demand for coffee and on Captain Fry's refusal to comply with their demand went on a strike. Captain Fry immediately got longshoremen to do their work and referred the matter to Acting United States Shipping Commissioner John Dias. Dias explained to the men that they had no right to coffee at 9 a. m. and after some talking the men promised to resume work on the ship Monday morning.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

In the police court this morning a number of drivers appeared, who had been violating the wide tire act and whose cases had been continued until today. As most of them had already complied with the regulations of the law their cases were nolle pro'd.

The cases of a few were continued in order that the police could ascertain whether these had complied with the regulations. In one case Attorney Highton, who appeared for the defendant, gave notice that he intended to test the validity of the law.

KINAU WILL BE LATE.

The Wilder Steamship Company office this morning received a wireless telegram stating that the Kinau left Lahaina at 7:45 o'clock this morning for Molokai. As a consequence the flagship is not expected to arrive here before 4 o'clock this afternoon. Bad weather is probably the reason of the delay.
